Statement of Need

The Alzheimer's Association estimates that there are 5.4 million Americans with Alzheimer's disease affecting the lives of 14.9 million unpaid caregivers. There is a new case of Alzheimer's disease every 69 seconds, and it is currently the 6th leading cause of death. In the future, Alzheimer's disease is expected to have significant effects on the social and economic structure of our country. There is a heightened need for medical professionals as well as policymakers to address the specter of an increasing prevalence of Alzheimer's disease in an aging society.

The goal of this conference is to improve the diagnostic and therapeutic capability of healthcare providers who care for persons with Alzheimer's disease and related dementias.

Elements of Competence

This CME activity has been designed to change learner competence and focuses on the American Board of Medical Specialties areas of patient care and procedural skills, medical knowledge, and systems-based practice.
